

Media Information

May 2010

DeLaval Canada celebrates World Milk Day – Tuesday June 1st with the students at Havelock-Belmont Public School

DeLaval and Tetra Pak will once again this year join forces and celebrate the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations official World Milk Day on Tuesday June 1st by distributing milk to the students attending Havelock-Belmont Public School during their 2nd nutritional break.

DeLaval Canada Marketing Communications Coordinator, Elizabeth Healey believes that “DeLaval Inc. and sister company, Tetra Pak, have a shared corporate social responsibility to raise awareness about the importance of drinking milk. World Milk Day provides us the ideal opportunity to focus attention on milk and to celebrate and educate students about the health benefits associated with milk through various interactive and educational activities.”

At Havelock-Belmont Public School, Mooooky, the Dairy Farmers of Canada mascot will celebrate World Milk Day with the students while delivering fresh cold Kawartha Dairy milk to all the elementary school students during their 2nd nutritional break on Tuesday June 1st. Tetra Pak has also generously donated Nestlé Nesquik as a take home reminder of a healthy active lifestyle. Joining everyone on Tuesday June 1st will be local dairy educator and dairy farmer Sherry Stockdale as well as dairy farmer Gerry Coughlin with a few of his prized herd, including a young calf.

DeLaval has been developing solutions and technologies to increase animal health and raise productivity on dairy farms since 1883. We support the value chain of all contributors including producers, processors, distributors and consumers who participate in the goal of increasing milk quality and quantity to feed the world. “We understand the value of working together to solve global issues as DeLaval provides sustainable dairy solutions to over 1,000,000 dairy producers around the world through the support of 1,296 dealers on all six continents,” said Leszek Jarosz, President Sales Company North America

For more information on World Milk Day and global activities check out www.worldmilkday.com or contact Elizabeth J. Healey at 705-741-3100 ext 111

DeLaval – Your solution every day

DeLaval has over 125 years of innovation and experience in the dairy business, supporting dairy farmers in managing their farms their way. Our Sustainable Dairy Farming initiative is contributing to the production of more quality food, for more people, with less impact on the environment. Our Smart Farming strategy aims at influencing and shaping the future of dairy farming today. The goal is to accelerate the transition from milking management to global farm profitability management by harnessing emerging decision tools and automation technologies for better quality milk and profits.